

O friendly enemy we have loved

♩ = 54c. stark

5

p O friend - ly e - ne - my we have loved, pp loin and haunch,

rit. tempo

9 p limb and flank, truth and lies, p tressed like a pair of

12 pp

an - cient Ar - me - ni - an vines

14

grown to - ge - ther root and branch in stunt - ed com - ming - ling

17

with - out End or Be - gin - ning.

20

If we part, you will leave with half of me,

23

or I with half of you, and no - thing will kill the pain of dis -

26 mp

mem - ber - ing. That ache like some rare jewel_

29 pp

will hang round our necks to touch, in ten - der tre - mu -

31

lance, an old wound of am - pu - ta - tion that burns and groans in 34

limbs no long - er ex - ist - ent, but splint - ered and crushed in some

37

long for - got - ten and use - less war —

pp

3:2

3:2

41

3:2

attacca